

2009 Local Winners Advance to National Education Contest

Catholic students from Council Bluffs who recently placed first in the city portion of the Catholic Daughters education contest had their entries sent to the state competition. The students in grades 4-12 creatively produced written, drawn, and photographed expressions of how God works in their lives. They could choose among six categories to submit entries. The themes for the contest were "God's Gifts in My Life" and "The Gifts I Give to Others."

"We are so proud of the students from Council Bluffs who had state entries. Our court had the most entries of any other court in the state!" explains Mariann Hilderbrand, court contest coordinator.

The following entries from our local contest earned awards at the state education contest:

Div I	Computer Art	1st place	Miranda Jangula
Div I	Poetry	3rd place	Bailey Tague
Div II	Computer Art	3rd place	Jacob Hedrick
Div II	Art	3rd place	Gus Doll
Div III	Essay	2nd place	Mary Faurot
Div III	Poetry	3rd place	Maureen Snook
Div III	Photography	3rd place	Daniel Pidgeon
Div III	Computer Art	1st place	Eric Assmann
Div IV	Art	2nd place	Jean Palensky

Jangula's and Assmann's entries will go on to the national competition this summer.
